New York Stock Market

New York, February 21.—A scanty attendance of board-room traders at the Stook Exchange had the market all most entirely to themselves to-day. Many members went home Saturday with the determination not to return until after to-merrow's holiday. The market was inert and tribuil in the face of these collectors on important infinites. The efforts of the board with little success. The fluctuation of the market was limited in either direction. Sellers turned buyers before a decline had proceeded to any appreciable length and the buyers shifted to the selling side on the advances. The operators had little material on which to form opinions of conditions. There was a perceptible effort to revive the influence of the corporation laws in the attention paid to the resumption. Of the sitting of the Supreme Court after its three weeks recess. Ostentatious preparations were made to secure early information of a possible decision in the American Tobacco case, and the selling of stocks during the morning was passed partly on the supposed possibility. The absence of the decision in the shear of cases handed down was followed by covering of the shorts put out at the first. The rebound was extended slightly beyond the mere recovery of the earlier decline. This measured the day's extreme fluctuation.

In the domestic field the principal interest centred in the news of violence in connection with the Philadelphia street car strike. The necessity for adjustment of various wage controversies is seen, but a tranquil view has been taken of the prospect in the financial centre, owing to the convection that a spirit of compromise would rule and would conduce to extinemits satisfactory to both sides. The example of the Philadelphia case proved slightly disquicting to this confidence.

Railread traffic officials sent in cheerful reports of freight business in sight. Stocks ended the day not far from Saturday's closing prices. Bonds were steady. Total sales, par value, $2.234,600.

DRY GOODS MARKET.

New York, February 21.—The American Printing Company to-day announced an advance of ice a yard to a basis of 6c, the new jobbing price to become effective on March 8. The Ameskeag Manufacturing Company announced the withdrawal of all anneiette lines, having sold the fall production. The market was strengthened in the cotton goods divisions by these actions, and converters were more active in their inquiries late in the day. Staple dress goods for fall are being ordered from the large corporations. The jobbing trade for the day was fair.

Washington, February 21.—In the first opinion rendered by Justice Lurton from the Supreme Court bench, a partial victory was won to-day over the State of Georgia by the Georgia Railroad and Banking Company. The court affirmed the main points in the opinion of the lower Federal court, holding that the railroad was required to pay only a State tax of 1-2 of 1 per cent, of the net earnings of its property and not property or franchise taxes. There was a modification of the decree as to the Washington property and not property or franchise taxes. There was a modification of the decree as to the Washington branch, the State winning its contention of this point.

The language of the charter granted in 1323 by the State of Georgia to the "Georgia Railroad Company," now the Georgia Railroad and Banking Company, to construct a "rail or turn-pike road" was the great handicap in the settlement of this long controversy.

Arrested Later for Cruelty

To save his little cur dog from sudden and violent death in an unequal combat with two buildogs belonging to Willie Thornton, of Charlty Street, near St. Paul, Daniel E. Worthy, owner of the fice, picked up the buildogs and out the throat of each, killing them almost hatantly.

When they set upon the cur the owners tried to separate them, but the battle was going so fast that this feat was impossible.

"Get your dawg offn mine," each shouled to the other, but the does, thinking it was the sound for the charge, went at it all the harder. The cur was held fore and aft.

With a yell of anger, Worthy drew a kinle or razor, no one ever knew as kinle or razor, no one ever knew which, and grabbing at the nearest which, and grabbing at the nearest large.
